The cell (from Latin cella, meaning "small room") is the basic structural, functional, and biological unit of all known living organisms. A cell is the smallest unit of life. Cells are often called the "building blocks of life". The study of cells is called cell biology. Cells consist of cytoplasm enclosed within a membrane, which contains many biomolecules such as proteins and nucleic acids.

Small organic molecules on ice and water surfaces play crucial roles in many environmentally relevant processes. Surface-specific vibrational spectroscopy was combined with a controllable flow cell apparatus to investigate the molecular adsorption of acetone onto the basal plane of single-crystalline hexagonal ice with a large surface area.
