The history of geography includes many histories of geography which have differed over time and between different cultural and political groups. In more recent developments, geography has become a distinct academic discipline. 'Geography' derives from the Greek $\gamma\epsilon\omicron\gamma\alpha\phi\iota\alpha$ $\hat{=}$ "geographia, a literal translation of which would be "to describe or write about the Earth".

World history or global history (not to be confused with diplomatic, transnational or international history) is a field of historical study that emerged as a distinct academic field in the 1980s. It examines history from a global perspective. It is not to be confused with comparative history, which, like world history, deals with the history of multiple cultures and nations, but does not do so ...
